

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF WEST VIRGINIA

BLUEFIELD DIVISION

MICHAEL D.,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No.: 1:23-cv-00334

KILOLO KIJAKAZI,
Acting Commissioner of the Social Security Administration,

Defendant.

MEMORANDUM OPINION

This is an action seeking review of the decision of the Commissioner of the Social Security Administration (hereinafter the “Commissioner”) denying Plaintiff’s application for a period of disability and disability insurance benefits (“DIB”) under Title II of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 401-433. The case is presently before the court on the Commissioner’s uncontested Motion for Remand. (ECF No. 9). Both parties have consented in writing to a decision by the United States Magistrate Judge. (ECF No. 10). The court has fully considered the Motion for Remand and GRANTS same. Accordingly, the court finds that the decision of the Commissioner should be REVERSED and REMANDED, pursuant to sentence four of 42 U.S.C. § 405(g), for further evaluation of Plaintiff’s application as stated herein.

Plaintiff, Michael D., (“Claimant”), completed an application for DIB on January 6, 2020, alleging a disability onset date of December 27, 2019, (Tr. at 48). The Social Security Administration (“SSA”) denied the application initially and upon reconsideration. (Tr. at 48). Claimant filed a request for a hearing, which was held on June 16, 2022 before the Honorable Francine Serafin, Administrative Law Judge (“ALJ”). (Tr. at 71-90). The hearing was held open for twenty-one days in order to obtain additional medical evidence. (Tr. at 89). Claimant’s representative subsequently requested an additional fourteen days to submit outstanding evidence which was granted. (Tr. at 48). By letter dated July 25, 2022, Claimant’s representative reported there was no additional evidence to submit. (Id.). By written decision dated September 26, 2022, the ALJ determined that Claimant was not entitled to benefits. (Tr. at 48-63). The ALJ’s decision became the final decision of the Commissioner on March 3, 2023, when the Appeals Council denied Claimant’s request for review. (Tr. at 1-4).

On April 17, 2023, Claimant timely filed the present civil action seeking judicial review of the administrative decision pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). (ECF No. 2). The Commissioner filed a Transcript of the Proceedings on June 14, 2023. (ECF No. 5). Claimant filed a Brief in Support of Judgment on the Pleadings on August 14, 2023 (ECF No. 8). Prior to filing her brief, on September 12, 2023, the Commissioner filed an uncontested motion for remand, indicating that the ALJ’s decision denying benefits merited further evaluation. (ECF No. 9). According to the Commissioner, Claimant concurred that further proceedings would be beneficial.

Title 42 U.S.C. § 405(g) authorizes the district court to remand the decision of the Commissioner of Social Security for further consideration at different stages of the judicial proceedings. When the Commissioner requests remand prior to filing an answer to the plaintiff’s complaint, the presiding court may grant the request under sentence six of § 405(g), upon a showing of good cause. In addition, a court may remand the matter

“at any time” under sentence six to allow “additional evidence to be taken before the Commissioner of Social Security, but only upon a showing that there is new evidence which is material and that there is good cause for the failure to incorporate such evidence into the record in a prior proceeding.” 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). When a court remands the Commissioner’s decision under sentence six, the court retains jurisdiction over the matter, but “closes it and regards it as inactive” until additional or modified findings are supplied to the court. See McPeak v. Barnhart, 388 F.Supp.2d 742, 745 n.2. (S.D.W. Va. 2005).

In contrast, under sentence four of 42 U.S.C. § 405(g), “[t]he court shall have power to enter, upon the pleadings and transcript of the record, a judgment affirming, modifying, or reversing the decision of the Commissioner of Social Security, with or without remanding the cause for a rehearing.” Because a sentence four remand essentially “terminates the litigation with victory for the plaintiff,” the court enters a final judgment dismissing the case and removing it from the court’s docket. Shalala v. Schaefer, 509 U.S. 292, 299 (1993) (“Under § 405(g), ‘each final decision of the Secretary [is] reviewable by a separate piece of litigation,’ and a sentence-four remand order ‘terminate[s] the civil action’ seeking judicial review of the Secretary’s final decision.”) (quoting Sullivan v. Hudson, 490 U.S. 877, 892 (1989)).

Given that the Commissioner explicitly asks for a sentence four remand,¹ the court REVERSES the final decision of the Commissioner; GRANTS the motion to remand, (ECF No. 9); REMANDS this matter pursuant to sentence four of 42 U.S.C. § 405(g) for further administrative proceedings consistent with this opinion; and DISMISSES this action from the docket of the Court. A Judgment Order will be entered accordingly.

The Clerk of this Court is directed to transmit copies of this Memorandum Opinion to counsel of record.
